ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT”

Dear Parents,

You may know or feel that there is a need to improve the academic achievement of our children. In Seaborn Day School’s afterschool program there is a venue to provide supplemental academic support for your children and their families. Seaborn’s afterschool program will be implementing an additional study room to help your child to learn and understand concepts that would need extra time and skills to master.

This program will help to develop your children’s academic skills and will be called “Academic Power Hour”. An additional half hour will be added for children that need the opportunity to develop skills that will enhance their academic achievement. After the additional time, your child will then join their friends in the different planned activities for each day.

Parents will receive a daily report on how their child’s homework assignment was understood and completed. An example of the report you will be receiving daily is on the second page of this document.

Thank you for your cooperation and involvement. These changes will benefit your child’s academic achievement.

It is important to learn that effort leads to success. We will encourage the children to take pride in and ownership over their assignments.

Thank you,
Joyce Addison
